

Harriet Tubman

Harriet was a conductor on the Underground Railroad. She helped over 300 slaves reach freedom in the north.

Harriet was called "Moses" because, like Moses, she would lead her people out of slavery to freedom.

Harriet Tubman

Harriet Tubman served as a nurse during the Civil War, helping union soldiers recover from wounds and illnesses.

Harriet Tubman was a spy and guide for the Union.

Freedom

Courage