

LOLA AND WINTER

There are times when they prefer not to go out and stay at home, drinking delicious hot chocolate with gingerbread cookies. Lola loves those moments, especially when they all sit together to hang out in the living room. Since they don't all fit on the couch, some sit on the floor with cushions or blankets.

Their favorite game is guessing movies. They spend many hours absorbed in trying to figure out which movie it is that one of them acts out. Sometimes, they use the costume chest in Lola's room, which is full of old fabrics, masks, and accessories, such as crowns, swords, or magic wands. Other times, Lola and her friends play songs using the portable speakers so they can take the music to different places in the house as they sing karaoke. Time spent with her friends is worth gold to Lola.

It's possible that winter, especially snowy days, is Lola's favorite time, even if it is cold and has few sunny days. There are times when the whole family puts on thermal clothes to keep their bodies warm and goes to the mountains to practice different sports, such as skiing or ice skating. To do this, they have to be in good physical shape and stretch before starting to practice it. Lola isn't particularly good at skiing, but she's a real ballerina when she skates. She is able to keep her balance while performing pirouettes through the air to the rhythm of the music. What a sight!

What do you like most about winter?