

A central writing area consisting of ten horizontal lines, intended for a child to write a story or message.

