Who discovered the Americas?

Christopher Columbus was born in Genoa, Italy. He was a sailor and also learned to make maps.

He believed he could reach the Indies by a different route than the one taken by sailors at the time. He asked for money for the trip from the Catholic Monarchs of Spain, King Ferdinand and Isabella.

He left with three ships: the Pinta, Nina, and Santa Maria. After 36 days of sailing, Columbus and several crewmen landed on the island we call the Bahamas, claiming it for Spain. There he found people who did not speak the same language, wore different clothes, and had different customs.

Columbus would make three more voyages to the Americas bringing back to Spain new products like corn and potatoes. He also brought new foods and animals to the Americas, from Europe including onions, wheat, and horses.
