My school started at the end of August. I brought my supplies on the first day because Mom had bought them already. Mrs. Claus is my teacher. She had taught my brother last year. Mrs. Claus said we would learn astronauts, famous authors, and many awesome animals. In autumn, we will visit a small bird habitat with eagles, hawks, and many other squawking birds. The whole class applauded when she said that. We would learn how to draw the birds with their sharp claws. She also said that if she caught anyone being naughty, they would automatically have time out. We were yawning and exhausted by the end of the first day. I saw my brother on the bus. I gave him my juice box with a straw and cautioned him not to spill, or Mom would have to do laundry.
